Early release day for elementary school on Monday, May 2

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Kalmiopsis Elementary School students will have a half day of classes on Monday, May 2, with school starting at the usual time and ending early at 12:15 p.m. after all grades eat lunch.

The early end of the day is to facilitate an in-service training afternoon for Kalmiopsis teachers and staff, according to Principal Helena Chirinian. The elementary educators will receive further training in Response to Intervention (RTI), an approach used in the Brookings-Harbor School District to improving literacy with individual learning plans and progress checks for each student.

All elementary school afternoon bus routes will run two hours earlier than usual, said Transportation Director Bryan Winchester. Buses for the middle school and high school will run at the regular time.
